INVENTORY TIME

At this time of year, after closing out the books for the fiscal year, the diocese asks each parish to take inventory. This ‘inventory’ includes not only the annual financial figures; there is also a sacramental inventory. How many baptisms, weddings, funerals, first communions, confirmations? A simple inventory is asked of the priests; what in the rectory and the sacristy is the personal property of each priest; the rest belonging to the church. A whole variety of data points are summarized.

The Gospel this weekend invites us to take an inventory as well. We are all servants who have been put in charge of our master’s property. The earth and all it offers has been entrusted to us collectively. We also each have particular responsibility for some part of it. Our family and our friends too have been entrusted to our love and care. In light of the second reading, we should include faith as a gift entrusted to us, to treasure, and return to the master at the end of the day with increase. The purpose of the inventory? How are we tending the things entrusted to our care? Are we using all the things entrusted to us wisely and well, with the master’s interests at heart? Are we distributing the food allowance to others at the proper time? It is a big stewardship question!

Stewardship and gratitude are intimately connected. We take inventory, and whether individually, as a family, or as a parish, we realize we have SO much to be thankful for; taking inventory is the opposite of taking for granted. Taking a full inventory of our blessings and gifts leads to gratitude. Gratitude tunes us in to God’s generosity, love and goodness. That leads to the desire to be generous in return.

After taking the parish inventory, we e-mail the results to the diocese. Yet the real place to go with our inventories is the altar. Eucharist is a holy act of gratitude. Our very coming together each week is a way of moving from words to action – we are grateful enough to offer God an hour a week, praising, praying and thanking God, together with the family that was given to us at baptism. The Gloria is a prayer of gratitude: ‘we give you thanks for your great glory …’. The first reading tells us of the early centuries of God’s calling our ancestors into a life-giving relationship. The psalm is sung as a prayer of gratitude in response. We listen to a reading from the early church, then stand as Jesus speaks to us through the gospel. The collection is pure stewardship. ‘From all you have given to me, I return this to you, O Lord.’ The Eucharistic Prayer ties it all together. The Preface is pure gratitude; then we offer, not just a portion, but our very selves to the Lord, together with Jesus. In return for our gratitude, we receive in communion the Lord himself.

May God bless us as we take stock this week! Fr. Bob

Sunday Communion Service - August 18

The Highlands: Mary Ann Monley
Heather Heights: Pete and Gerry Shea
19TH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

1st Reading: Wisdom 18:6-9

Holy Passover

Passover Homily

The book of Wisdom, aka ‘Wisdom of Solomon’, was written sometime between the 1st century BC and the 1st century AD, perhaps in Alexandria. It was intended to provide encouragement about their faith and heritage to Jews living in the diaspora (outside Israel). The third section of the book, chapters 11-19 offers a fascinating historical comparison: the very plagues that were sent to punish Egypt were a blessing to the people of Israel. This material may well have been part of a Passover ‘homily’ (midrashic haggadah, or teaching). ‘Our fathers’, refers to the patriarchs. In some way, they ‘knew’ of the Passover even before it happened, a mystery of how God works that we can only contemplate in wonder!

2nd Reading: Hebrews 11:1-2, 8-12

Trusting in the promises

Inventory of Heroes

Chapter 11 of Hebrews is sometimes called the roll call of heroes of faith. Why this inventory? To remind us of the cloud of witnesses, all who lived by faith, and whose faith should stir up our faith. There is great value in remembering the example of Abraham, Moses and great witnesses in the scripture. But to bring it home even more, consider your own ‘cloud of witnesses’. Whose faith has had an impact on you? Who has inspired you? What difference has their life and witness made? And for the brave of heart: who is counting on you to be a witness to them??

Treasure in heaven

Being Prepared

Scripture scholars tell us that the parables in our Gospel today have had an interesting history, from the way Jesus used them, to how the evangelists understood them in light of Jesus’ expected imminent return, to the final form in the Gospel. But throughout, the message of being prepared comes through loud and clear, regardless of the setting. It is still relevant today. Employing the journey motif (inspired by Deacon Dave’s homily last week), are we going off track, perhaps even going backward, just marking time, or faithfully moving forward in mission, with purpose, guided by God’s grace?

Rite of Christian Initiation of Adults…RCIA

Bringing people into a relationship with Christ, into the community of faith, and into the sacramental life of our church is why we are here! The RCIA is the process for welcoming adults into the Roman Catholic Church. Whether a person has never been baptized, has been baptized in another church but wishes to become Catholic, or was baptized Catholic, but never was fully initiated (being confirmed and receiving 1st Eucharist), we have a process to help with the next steps, leading to life in Christ, community, and all that the Lord offers us through the sacraments. Even if you are not sure if you are ready for the next step in a journey of faith, it doesn’t hurt to learn how it works! If you are interested in learning more about this process, please contact Father Bob or call the office.

Baptism Beyond Infancy

Please don’t be embarrassed if life was hectic, time got away from you for whatever reason, and now your child is old enough to walk to the font. Baptism is not just for babies or adults. Between infancy and adulthood, we look at what makes most sense to initiate a person into the life of faith. For very young children, explaining what will happen, a little about Jesus and God, and teaching a prayer or two may be the best step. For elementary age children, we tailor preparation based on what the child already knows, and what level of faith would be age appropriate. Whether you have a child who wishes to be baptized, or would be interested in being a member of an RCIC team (Rite of Christian Initiation for Children), please contact Fr. Bob at ring@dor.org or 586-5675.

A Handy Tool

Our excellent lectors don’t just walk to the ambo and begin reading to us. Their gift of proclaiming the Word includes careful preparation. One tool they use is the Lector’s Workbook, which offers specifics for how to proclaim the Word effectively, as well as reflections on each passage. We have a number of extra copies. Considering becoming a lector? Take one of our extra copies, located in the sacristy on the window sill. Or just pick one up to check it out (while they last).

Next Week’s Tithing Will Support Emergency Tithing Fund

At times emergency situations arise that our tithing committee feel compelled to respond to, yet the committee meets quarterly, addressing and scheduling tithing requests three months at a time. At the last meeting of the committee, we decided to establish an 'Emergency Tithing Fund', so that it would be possible to respond when tornadoes, floods or other such emergency situations that cry out for a response. In this way, a weekly tithes can be sent out immediately, without having to juggle the schedule or wait for a collection which could be tithed. A few weekly tithes in this fund will make it possible to address major disasters when the help is most needed.

A Word of Thanks

As many of you will likely remember, earlier this year the Bishops office introduced a campaign entitled Our Legacy, Our Future, Our Hope. The goal of this campaign was two-fold: it would provide a needed boost for the retired priest pension fund, while also providing financial assistance for the growing number of seminarians studying for priesthood.

In particular, on behalf of all the seminarians of our diocese, I would like to express a special word of thanks. While we work hard throughout the year in seminaries far from home, we are so grateful to receive your support both spiritual and financial. Across the diocese, parishioners have been so generous in their response to this pressing need. I am humbled to have your enthusiastic support as I prepare for a life of ordained ministry within our very own Diocese of Rochester. Please continue to keep all of us seminarians in your prayers. Choosing to actively pursue the priesthood in this time can be tremendously difficult, but we continue to forge ahead with the sure knowledge that the blessings of ministry will far outweigh the challenges. Thank you once again for your support and be assured of my prayers. Michael Harris

Saturday, September 21, 2013

10:00am—4:00pm

Keynote Speaker:

Sr. Janice Bachman, O.P., M.S., M.B.A.

Program Overview: Working with our dreams can be an important way to un-cover our call to holiness and wholeness and thus, deepen our relationship with God.

This retreat day will be situated in a contemplative atmosphere in which we will pay attention to what God desires for us and what God desires to reveal to us through dreams. We will look at what dreams are and work with a dream from scripture to demonstrate how we can then continue to work with our own dreams as a potential source of God’s ongoing revelation to us. We will also explore the role of the dream in bringing into consciousness what we need to know to live more wholistic lives.

Be On “Time”!!

Years ago, most families had only one or two clocks in their home. Today, we have clocks everywhere – on our walls, on our microwave ovens, on our DVD players, on our cell phones, and so on. How many clocks (time-telling devices) does your family have? What important events do family members need to be on time for? Recall experiences of being late for something, either as individuals or as a family. In this Sunday's Gospel, Jesus talks about how important it is for us to be aware and alert, otherwise, we will miss something.

In today’s parable Jesus told how the master will feel if he arrives to find his servant doing his job. What is our job as disciples of Jesus? Just as we need to be aware of the time so that we don't miss anything important, we also need to be alert and focused on our jobs, our responsibilities as followers of Jesus.

The parables remind us that we should be found doing our jobs when the master arrives. If we are doing our jobs, our reward will be great. But if we relax, neglect our duties, and begin to act like the greedy rich man – eating, drinking, and making merry – we will not have a place in the kingdom. Watchfulness means living in such a consistently moral and obedient way that we are always ready to give an account to God of how we have lived.

Encourage each family member to place a sacred symbol near the clock that they use most in the house and to use the symbol and the clock as a reminder that it is always “time” for us to be acting like disciples of Christ.

QUESTION OF THE WEEK

Adult: Other than Jesus, which of the ancestors of Christian faith has served as the greatest example to you? Why?

Child: Which person of the Bible has been a good example to you of how to live?

Elizabeth Ann Seton
An American Saint for the Year of Faith

When the Year of Faith began last October, Pope Benedict encouraged Catholics to study the lives of the saints. The USCCB (United States Conference of Catholic Bishops) has offered “10 American Saints for the Year of Faith” to help Catholics appreciate the history of the Catholic faith in America.

Relevant to Catholic education is St. Elizabeth Ann Seton, one of the 10 saints spotlighted in the list and considered the founder of the Catholic school system in the United States. Other interesting facts about her life include:

- Her husband’s health failed 10 years into their marriage, leaving her a poor widow with five children to raise alone.
- Her love for the Eucharist led her to convert to Catholicism.
- She founded the first order of religious women in America, the Sisters of Charity of St. Joseph.
- She became the co-founder of the first free Catholic School in America.
- She was able to still raise her children, as well as live the life of a sister and found several schools.
- She was the first native-born U.S. citizen to be canonized.

St. Elizabeth Ann Seton is an excellent example of someone whose life was turned upside-down, but whose constant faith and trust in God helped her through her crisis and gave her new direction and purpose to her life that benefitted many others. In times of our own personal struggles, she may be a great source of inspiration.

The Rochester diocese has also honored St. Elizabeth Ann Seton with a parish in Hamlin, and a school in Brighton, both named after her.

Additional links to find out more about St. Elizabeth Ann Seton may be found at the USCCB website, or, as always, see me after Mass sometime, or contact me at IdeaconDave@gmail.com.

God bless,
Deacon Dave

Hard as Nails

My name is Trevor Gambacorta, son of Claudio & Laura Gambacorta. My dad works at St. Louis parish. I recently graduated from Fairport High, and have been involved in many church and community activities throughout my school years.

In high school I truly started to grow in my faith and relationship with God, becoming an active member of the St. John of Rochester youth group, serving as a retreat team teen leader, serving on the Saint John of Rochester (SJR) Pastoral Council for two years, and being a Children’s Liturgy leader. I now know that to truly live the word of God, I must go out and live my faith. I have been called to serve as a missionary in the Hard As Nails Ministries New Heart Missionary Program, which I learned about when I witnessed Justin Fatica, founder of Hard as Nails Ministry (hanm.org), speak at our parish. I was truly amazed and inspired at how powerful Justin’s message was. He challenged us to be truthful and focused on putting our faith and devotion towards God first, while affirming that everyone is a child of God, to be cherished. Immediately inspired, I knew I was being called.

This missionary program involves traveling throughout the country, speaking at churches with Justin and six other missionaries. We will share our personal stories, to help others build a deeper, more personal relationship with God. We will speak to/with teens, but will reach out to everyone willing to listen. Missionaries like myself need to raise travel and living allowance funds. My fundraising goal is $8,000; a lofty goal, but I am already over halfway there. You can assist this me in this missionary effort through a secure website, www.gofundme.com/3647so or by writing a check to Hard as Nails Ministry and sending it to: Trevor Gambacorta, St. John of Rochester Parish, 8 Wickford Way, Fairport, 14450 and putting my name (Trevor Gambacorta) in the memo field (so I get credit for this). Please keep me and the other new missionaries in your prayers. Thank you and may God Bless You!
