Joining the Team

This past Fall, staff and pastors from our tri-parish planning group (St. Catherine’s, St. Louis and Transfiguration) had a joint staff day, with Fr. Jim Schwartz facilitating. Through the morning and early afternoon, Fr. Schwartz shared with all of us a few of the changes instituted in how things are organized at St. Joseph’s. Near the top of the list: something that might seem cosmetic, but for his parish proved quite effective. Though Pastoral Councils and Finance Councils are mandated in canon (church) law, and so the names are official, many other groups in a parish have more flexibility when it comes to a name or way of operating. Historically, almost every group would be a committee: pastoral care committee, stewardship committee, liturgy committee, social ministry committee, etc. At St. Joseph’s, following the success of other parishes, the word of the day is team. The word just conveys a different flavor and philosophy.

Committees in parishes are often set groups, together for a long time, with standard operating procedures, rules, and expectations. Team sounds more like a group of people bringing a variety of skills or gifts, coming together for a limited period of time, to accomplish a given set of tasks. The jargon can become confusing. Is this a committee, a team, a ministry, a council? Stewardship ‘committee’, later ‘council’ now agrees: team better reflects the spirit of what St. Paul teaches in our second reading today. We bring a variety of gifts, experiences and energy, but all to work together for the common good. Folks are more likely to rotate onto and off of a team, bringing fresh ideas and energy, new perspectives, while broadening the experience base of parish life for those who, over time, may serve on a number of different teams. There can be multiple teams in one area – rather than one liturgy committee, a small team could work on Lent/Holy Week/ Easter, another on Advent/Christmas/ Epiphany. Or different teams might energize particular parish social events.

St. Paul’s point (in the longer version of the reading) is so true. There ARE many different gifts, and each is vital. Some are center stage, others less so, but all are needed. One is not better than another. It is essential for good functioning of the body that they all work together.

A corollary – the Holy Spirit distributes all the gifts needed for the body to function effectively. But for that to happen, we need to discover our gifts, explore how to use them, and put them at the service of the wider good. Take another look at what Paul has to say about gifts in his letter to the Corinthians. Could he be speaking to you? You bet! He is speaking to all of us!

Soon a new directory of councils/teams/ministries here at St. Louis will be coming out. Give it a serious look, to see how you might get more involved. Your insight, skill, gift or contribution may be just what we need!

Peace to all, Fr. Bob

Why All the Crying?
The 1st reading doesn’t tell us exactly why all the people were weeping. They had been in exile 70 years, so perhaps with the covenant renewal ceremony, it truly sank in: we are home, and that suffering is at an end. Some may have longed for the chance to renew the covenant for years, and now the time finally arrived. For many who were younger, it may have been hearing from the Torah for the first time. Others may have been struck by God’s love and promises, now fulfilled, while some may have been struck with how far they had drifted away from God’s commands during the exile. Regardless, Nehemiah was clear. Renewing the covenant, a fresh start: it’s a time to rejoice and celebrate!

Even More Powerful Today
St. Paul’s analogy of the body is fairly easy to grasp. Different organs and parts of the body each play a specific role, but all are needed for health. If parts of the body compete with one another, we are in real trouble! Now, knowing so much more about the human body than a couple thousand years ago, we should be even more aware of how essential it is that all the parts work together. As Paul says, so it is too with the body of Christ, namely the community of believers all joined in communion as one body. How might Paul’s wisdom lead you to look at others, or your own role in the church, in a different light?

Beginning His Ministry
Today we see Jesus in the Gospel beginning his ministry. Luke makes it clear, his ministry is rooted in the tradition of Israel, a fulfilment of prophecy. Picture Jesus picking up a scroll, finding the specific passage quoted today, and proclaiming it to those assembled. Lectors, we have Nehemiah in our first reading, then Jesus in our Gospel serving as a lector. Can picturing how they went about it enhance your ministry to the community? Check out the little clues … ‘all the eyes looked intently at him’. What little tweaks might lead people to focus more intently as you proclaim God’s Word?
Tithing

Not only does the Bible speak about tithing; believers over the centuries have experienced over and over again the value of being intention- al about how we give back a share of our blessings to the Lord. The Bible goal of tithing is 10%. Many would see that as 5% of one’s income in support of one’s church/parish, and 5% to support other charities, whether formal (organizations) or informal (friends or relatives). We live that commitment as a parish by tithing 10% of the Sunday collections. A portion of this goes to the various charities you see listed on this page, while a portion goes to support our Saint’s Place ministry to refugees here in Monroe County. So your contribution not only supports our parish facilities, staff and services, but helps us tithe, and reach out to those in need, week after week. Thank you for helping us make a difference!

“Let us not grow tired of doing good, for in due time we shall reap our harvest.”

Galatians 6:9

“I Was Hungry And You Gave Me Food”

Many thanks to all who brought in food last weekend, to help keep the Pittsford Food Cupboard stocked. If you miss the third weekend collection, food may be left anytime for Pittsford Food Cupboard. There is a drop off drawer in the entry way near the grand piano at the front of church. There is also a bin in the Narthex near the handicap door. Contributions of non-perishable food can always be donated. Thank you!
Attention: All Catholic School Families!

January 31st is the deadline for Catholic School students to register for the 2016 St. Louis Confirmation Program. This includes both 8th & 9th graders! Registration forms can be picked up at the Ministry Center or in the Narthex hallway in church. Any questions, please contact Peggy Lynge @ 585-586-5675 or plynge@dor.org.

Calling ALL singers with a flexible schedule. Perhaps you may have heard that St. Louis has a Resurrection Choir that leads the music at many of our funerals. Though the group is sizable, we are having difficulty getting enough singers at short notice. Most funerals have 3-4 days notice at most, and even for retirees, life is busy! This is a beautiful ministry that includes being on call for our 11:00 am weekday funerals as they happen. The bigger the group gets, the easier it is to always have a nice number of singers present. We can go weeks and even months without a funeral, and then there are times where we might have 3 or 4 funerals in a week. This is a minimal time commitment as there is no weekly rehearsal. We just have a short rehearsal before each funeral as it comes up. Some of our singers are heading south for the winter, so we could use your help now. Please contact Stephanie Honz at 586-5675 x251 or shonz@rochester.rr.com to inquire further.

Unlocking the Mystery of the Bible, an eight-part study, makes the complex simple and provides the easiest way to understand the Bible. It helps to uncover the story of Salvation History woven throughout Scripture so that you can get the “big picture” of the Bible and understand what it is all about. The Bible is a story about the Father’s unfailing love for you - a love that you are now called to share with others. Matthew: The King and His Kingdom is an exciting study that explores the life and mission of Jesus. Matthew demonstrates how the promises and prophecies of the Old Testament are fulfilled in Christ, the awaited Messiah, who relives the life and struggles of Israel, and who will become the faithful and victorious King. Set in the rich context of Jewish culture, this study will help us to understand who Jesus truly is and what His life and teachings mean for us today. NEW BOOK GROUPS FOR THE YEAR OF MERCY FORMING FOR LENT

God’s boundless mercy has become the recurring theme of Pope Francis’ preaching and teaching. It is his heartfelt desire that we understand the Mercy of God. We will be using The Holy Year of Mercy, A Faith-Sharing Guide to provide an opportunity to participate in the holy year in a meaningful way.

We are offering two small group opportunities during Lent so interested parishioners can join in the journey to living a more mercy-centered life. Each group of four sessions feature Gospel passages followed by homilies on those passages by Pope Francis. Questions for reflection and discussion focus on both the Scripture text and the homily.

The first two groups being offered are:

Sunday at 12:15-1:15 pm on January 31, February 7, February 14, and February 21

Bring a brown bag lunch if you wish.

OR

Thursday at 1:30-2:30 pm on January 28, February 4, February 11, and February 18

We will be in the lower level of Reddington Hall, below the Parish Meeting Hall. Watch for signs!

Please RSVP to Birdie or Shannon at 586-5675 by Monday, January 25 so that books can be ordered. The cost to cover the price of the book is $10.00.

Watch for more groups forming soon!

If you haven't started reading our Christmas giveaway book, Rediscover Jesus by Matthew Kelly, now is the perfect time. Over the next few weeks, we will send out reflections, written by your fellow parishioners, on some of the meditations from this book. Look at what they're saying about this book and see if it resonates with you. We begin with a reflection written by Lisa Magguilli:

"The chapter that caught my attention is Chapter 2, entitled 'Getting to Know Jesus'. I think it's easy to get caught up in the idea that all we know about Jesus can be found in the pages of the Bible, the words of the Mass, or the stories that we tell every Christmas and Easter. Matthew Kelly is calling us to a deeper, more personal understanding of Jesus – something beyond a recitation of facts from the story of His life. I thought back to the story in the prologue about the blind woman and the man who helped her pick up her fruit from the sidewalk. Her essential question, "Are you Jesus?" resonated with me. In order for me to truly know Jesus, I believe I have to look for Him not just in the pages of Scripture but also in my everyday encounters with my fellow human beings. If I am not looking for Him, can I ever really know Him? This is an interesting question to ponder and one that I will be asking more frequently in my daily life."

If you missed our giveaway at Christmas, there are some copies of Rediscover Jesus at the church entrances. Please pick one up while supplies last.

We want to hear what you think of this book, even if you’re just starting it and doing a meditation a day. You can leave a comment about Rediscover Jesus on our Facebook page (http://www.facebook.com/stlouischurchpittsford), mention it to Fr. Bob after Mass, or send Fr. Bob an email. We hope to hear from you.

WE CONTINUE OUR CELEBRATION OF THE YEAR OF MERCY: WORKS OF MERCY, PART 2

This week we begin to talk about “where the rubber meets the road” or living out the Corporal Works of Mercy as we have been asked by Christ.

FEED THE HUNGRY

There are many people in this world who go without food. When so much of our food goes to waste, consider how good stewardship practices of your own food habits can benefit others who do not have those same resources.

- Having delicious food for your Easter dinner? Donate a ham to your local pantry so everyone can have something to eat.
- Research, identify and contribute financially to organizations that serve the hungry.
- The next time you make a recipe that can be easily frozen, make a double batch and donate one to your local food pantry or soup kitchen.
- Try not to purchase more food than you are able to eat. If you notice that you end up throwing groceries away each week, purchasing less groceries would eliminate waste and allow you to donate the savings to those in need.

LOCAL AGENCIES YOU CAN ASSIST:
- Pittsford Food Cupboard: (585) 264-9860
- Sister Regis Food Cupboard: (585) 454-6766
- St. Andrew’s Food Cupboard: (585) 338-1764
- Foodlink: (585) 328-3380
- St. Joseph’s Food Cupboard: (585) 232-3262
- House of Mercy: (585) 546-2580
- St. Catherine’s, Mendon, Open Meal: Nicole & Steve D’Anna, (585) 582-6354
- Rochester Area Interfaith Hospitality Network (RAIHN): Ann-Marie DeSantis, (585) 383-8686 (see tithing article on page 4)

GIVE DRINK TO THE THIRSTY

Many of our brothers and sisters in Christ do not have access to clean water and suffer from the lack of this basic necessity. We should support the efforts of those working towards greater accessibility of this essential resource.

- We take it for granted that we have access to clean water. Donate . . . to help build wells for water for those in need.
- Organize a group of children involved on a sports team (e.g., soccer) or a summer camp. Invite them to collect bottled water to distribute at a shelter for families. If parents can be involved, ask them to accompany their children in delivering the water to the families.
- Do the same for youth and young adult groups.
- Make an effort not to waste water. Remembering to turn off the water faucet rather than continuously running water when you are brushing your teeth or washing dishes can help, especially in regions suffering from drought.

Celebrating Life

Helping Women in Crisis Pregnancy Centers Support Their Babies

When: January 25 - February 14

What we need you to do: start collecting maternity and baby items:
- Pjs size 2 months and up, formula, diapers, maternity clothing (can be gently used, please pre-wash), baby outfits, etc.

These items will go to Birthright of Rochester which offers free and confidential pregnancy support to any woman regardless of age, income or ethnicity.
