Cold Water for a Drink, Warm Water for a Plunge

Our first reading and Gospel this weekend highlight the virtue of hospitality, reminding us: the rewards of hospitality can far exceed expectations. A Shunemmite woman opens her home to Elisha, and is blessed with a son. Jesus proclaims, give a cup of cold water to a disciple, and receive a disciple’s reward. Hospitality. Then St. Paul speaks of baptism. Perhaps there is a link.

Why is our font located where it is? Baptism is the means of entering the church. Ancient tradition places fonts at church entrances, to symbolize this. Often those to be baptized were welcomed at the door. Renouncing sin, they would look out, speaking to the darkness (Easter Vigil, at night). professing faith, they turn, facing the community that offered the gift of faith. Back to infant baptism, note, the first ritual in the ceremony is welcoming the child. Hospitality in action. Be at home in the church. Become a disciple. We offer warm water, prayer and God’s grace. Be bathed in mercy and in Christ’s love. Be reborn. Become a disciple. Live the Christ-life.

Such a central sacrament, baptism is more though than just a warm welcome. We welcome the child with the sign of the cross. Later we invoke the saints, praying for one who, with us, will be destined to join their company. Then, as Paul told the Romans, and tells us, in baptism one is plunged into Christ’s death and resurrection. The old self-centered self (original sin) is buried with Christ in the waters, drowned, if you will, and a new self rises from the water, our Christ-self. Does the old self sometimes raise its ugly head? Yes. But stay close to Christ. Sin has no power Christ cannot defeat.

The Second Vatican Council re-emphasized a key notion of Baptism. Baptism is a sacrament we live, not one we receive and then forget. That is why we renew baptismal promises at least annually. During baptisms at Mass, the renewal of baptismal promises replaces the creed, but with an added dynamic: we begin by renouncing sin. We profess, but also pray, Lord, I reject sin, help me continually die to sin and rise to new life. Keep that baptismal power unfolding in my life.

Welcomed into a loving community, so that it can become a home and safe haven. Immersed in mercy and in Christ, set on a life-long path that leads to eternal life – is it any wonder that the church encourages parents to bring their little ones to be baptized as soon as possible? There are powerful images in our scriptures this week. Praying with them can be solid food to nourish you on your spiritual journey! Peace to you and those you love, Fr. Bob (Next week: The Year of the Eucharist and postures at Mass.)

God’s Holy Word

Thirteenth Sunday in Ordinary Time

1st Reading: 2 Kings 4:8 – 11, 14 – 16a
Hospitality to a prophet

2nd Reading: Romans 6:3 – 4, 8 – 11
Dying and rising with Christ

Gospel: Matthew 10:37 – 42
Kindness to disciples

Letting In
Hospitality is a virtue revered in the Middle East. Without hospitality, traveling through harsh lands would be life-threatening! Hospitality is also love in action. Not only did the Shunammite woman invite Elisha into her home, she made room for him in her life, let him in, if you will, to her family. On the literal level, her hospitality led Elisha to utter a prophetic word, which led to her giving birth to a son, a blessing she scarce could have imagined. Spiritually, one can conclude, hospitality is life-giving and generative. How comfortable are we at letting others in? Do we see family as a tight circle, with an impenetrable wall protecting it, or can we let others in, a type of extended family? How about our family of the church? How about the family of our nation? Spend some time talking it over with the Lord.

Letting Go
Dying to sin, dying to self – it is all about letting go. Letting go of our need to be number one. Letting go of our need to maintain the proud illusion that we are the master of our own destiny. Turning our life over to Christ. Although it can seem that the leap of faith is a leap off a cliff or into the darkness, it is actually a leap into the loving arms of God. Even if you were baptized by infusion (water poured over the head), pray and visualize yourself going into the water, coming out a new creation. Let Paul’s images speak to your heart. Reread the passage. Prayerfully. Asking the Holy Spirit to lead you deeper into freedom.

Receiving Those Sent
Jesus sent out the 12, he sent out the 72, and he taught the crowds, when you receive those I send out, you are actually receiving me. The same holds true today. We are called to receive those sent as we would Christ. Elsewhere he takes it even further. Not only are we to receive those who are sent as disciples; when we welcome the stranger, feed the hungry, clothe the naked, visit the sick and those in prison, we are offering that care to Christ.

Me Pray the Breviary?!
OK, so you don’t own a breviary, and wouldn’t know how to flip the pages if you had one. Check out Practice of Faith in At Home with the Word. One of the treasures in the church’s storehouse is the Divine Office, or Liturgy of the hours, a wonderful way to pray that puts you in communion with Christ and others praying the same psalms and scriptures around the world. If your prayer life is just where you want it to be, God bless you. If you could use some spiritual help, check out this deep stream of spirit and life.

Looking Ahead:
Fourteenth Sunday in Ordinary Time

1st Reading: Zechariah 9:9 – 10
He shall proclaim peace

2nd Reading: Romans 8:9, 11 – 13
You are in the Spirit

Gospel: Matthew 11:25 – 30
Find rest for yourselves

THIS WEEK’S TITHING WILL SUPPORT ST. PETER’S KITCHEN

NEXT WEEK’S TITHING WILL SUPPORT ELDERBERRY EXPRESS

What is the Elderberry Express? The Pittsford Interfaith Coalition on Aging launched this transportation service for Pittsford senior citizens in 1987. The aim of this service has been to assist Pittsford seniors in remaining independent in their “home setting” as long as possible. This enables seniors who can no longer drive to maintain a sense of independence. The service is provided Monday through Friday from 9:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. Elderberry Express is now in its 30th year of service.

Many clients have expressed their appreciation for the more meaningful life that Elderberry Express helps provide for them. People living longer has created an increasing need to provide transportation for senior citizens to get to their medical appointments, grocery shopping, hair appointments, banking activities, etc. In 2014, drivers drove over 41,900 miles. The success of Elderberry Express has always depended on volunteers – volunteer drivers and dispatchers. Their operating expenses continue to rise. For instance, vehicle insurance is currently more than 60% of what Elderberry paid in 2010. Contributions from the Interfaith Coalition is a major part of this service of great value that Elderberry Express provides to the Pittsford community. Questions? Call Elderberry Express at (585) 248-6237.

On July 8-9, Sr. Agnes Mathew will conduct Mission Appeals at St. Louis on behalf of their congregation, the Society of Christu Jyothi Sisters (Sisters of Christ the Light). The sisters are from Southern India. Their works in India include evangelization, education, pastoral and prison ministry, care of child laborers, school dropouts, the hearing and speech impaired, the mentally challenged and empowerment of women and children. Please be generous in supporting their mission work with your prayers and donations. God bless you.

Sounds Like Fun!

Giving a cup of water to a disciple is good (today’s Gospel). Giving a cup of coffee or juice: priceless! Individuals or a family set up our coffee hour after the 7:30 and 9:00 AM Masses every Sunday, on a rotating schedule. It doesn’t take much time, and is a beautiful way to be a minister of hospitality. Would you like to have a place on the schedule? We could use the extra help, and maybe you could use the blessing! Speak with the folks doing hospitality next week, and let them show you the ropes and sign you up!

Dear Gardeners:

It would be wonderful to have fresh garden produce during the summer at Sister M. Regis Food Cupboard. We are located at 316 Bay St., a very poor section of the city of Rochester. If you are a gardener and will have extra produce this summer, could you share a little with us? If so please call Sr. Julia at 585-454-6766 or 585-500-8095. Gratefully, Sister Julia Norton

~ Pope Francis
“To intercede means to send someone an angel.”
[Martin Luther, 1483-1546]

“As Abraham intervened by his prayer for the inhabitants of Sodom, as Jesus prayed for his disciples, and as the early Christian community looked “not only to [their] own interests, but also to the interests of others” (Phil 2:4), so too Christians always pray for everyone – for people who are dear to their hearts, for people who are not close to them, and even for their enemies. [Youth Catechism §§2634-2636, 2647]. We can all pray for each other. Join us in building a new ministry of prayer! As the Body of Christ, we can help each other out and hold each other up by putting our hands together in prayer for one another. The beautiful thing about prayer is that it can be done in the comfort and quiet of your own home, privately in a public place or with the assembly of God’s people. Prayer is an activity open to people of all ages. There are truly no limits!

We will accept prayer requests, share them with only those in the network, and pray for each other and our loved ones and friends through the challenges of life. If you would like to help start this new prayer network for the needs and people of St. Louis Church, please call Cathy Malik in the Ministry Center at 586-5675, ext. 228.

My Food... John 4:34, Jesus says: “My food is to do the will of Him who sent Me and to accomplish His work.” Today in the first reading, we hear of a Shunammite woman who furnished a room with table, lamp and chair so Elisha would have a place to stay. Volunteers at Saint’s Place set up apartments for refugees who the State Department have sent to Rochester, so they will find a welcome and have a place to stay. And guess what? Just like the Bible says, in doing that work of God, they find spiritual nourishment. Ask any of the volunteers at the Sale this month. Like Mary Ann Weiner (pg. 7), they all have a story to tell.

In My Own Words . . .

I started when the entire operation was on Main Street. The refugees were brought here for clothes. A couple of months into my “volunteer career,” a family from Bhutan came in, consisting of a mother, father, a couple of children, and grandmother.

Grandmother was dressed in a Sari, a team jacket from some high school and a knit hat with a New York Yankees symbol. Her face was weathered and she resembled Mother Teresa. She stopped me in the hall, put her hands together and bowed her head in thanks for helping her family. I’ll never forget her. And as Mother Teresa said, “If you do it to help others, you’re doing it to Jesus.”

I don’t see the refugees now that the Clothing Closet is at St. John’s. But, I put together their bedding and soft goods they need for their new homes. I still see their names on the intake sheets. Whether it’s Maya or Muhammed or Ilunge or Little Raisa, I know I’m making their lives a little better. Someone told me, “you have to have a ‘why’ in your life.” A ‘why’ to get up in the morning, a ‘why’ to keep busy. I found my ‘why’ fifteen years ago at Saint’s Place.
