Lose in Love

For whoever wishes to save his life will lose it, but whoever loses his life for my sake will save it. (Luke 9:24) Not one of Jesus’ easiest teachings! Sometimes I challenge folks to delve into aspects of our faith this way: “Ok, let’s say you were trying to explain this to someone who is not Christian, and who knows nothing about the Bible, Jesus, or Christian faith. How would you do it?”

Lately we have had quite a number of baptisms (always a blessing!), and it is wedding season as well. If the challenge were given to me to explain this hard teaching from our Gospel, I might ask the person to come to a baptism or wedding. Rather than a lengthy theological discourse, I might say “watch that mom or dad holding the baby. Their total attention is focused on caring for, providing for that child. They may get irritable from lack of sleep, or trying to juggle all the demands, but look close. They aren’t empty, they are full. So full of love, every effort to put that love into action is worth the cost. That’s losing yourself (self-interest/self-centeredness) and at the very same time finding yourself (we are made for loving and pouring ourselves out for others). Never love that much, and we are lost. A wedding works too – see a bride and groom looking into one another’s eyes, watch them exchange vows: at the heart of that sacrament is giving oneself totally, freely and without reservation to another person. It’s losing oneself in love of the other, finding oneself in the process.

No, I am not a blind optimist. No parent is perfect. Loving, moving beyond self-centeredness, selfishness is a life long struggle. No marriage is perfect either, and we can’t forget that Paul’s words in the 13th chapter of Corinthians, so often read at weddings, are an ideal, not an accomplished fact. We aim at always being patient, humble, forgiving, hoping and praying we are doing a little better this year than we did last. We never fully get there until we graduate from this life into the next, swept up into God’s eternal love.

Now about that ‘for my sake’ part. True, people who have never even heard of Jesus have babies and love them dearly. Couples with no faith at all are swept up into the mystery of love. I use these analogies to capture losing one’s life and saving it because they are accessible. What is unique to the Christian – for us, it is not just our own flesh and blood that we love. Another hard, but life-giving saying from the Lord: ‘You have heard it said, love your neighbor and hate your enemy … but I say to you, love your enemies, do good to those who hate you …’. That we do for Jesus sake, because that is what he did for us on the cross. Let the next baptism touch you! May we all be graced to lose ourselves in love, and then, through Jesus, learn to spread that love ever wider and wider!

Peace to you all, Fr. Bob

Prophecy to Apocalyptic
In many ways, Zechariah is a bridge between prophecy (like Amos, Isaiah or Jeremiah) and apocalyptic literature (like parts of Daniel, or the book of Revelation). The book includes apocalyptic features, like angelic interpreters, dramatic visions (flying scrolls, divine horsemen patrolling the new earth, etc.), yet also includes down to earth things like rebuilding the temple, practical concerns about fasting, and historical details. The classical prophets spoke strongly, at times with vivid imagery, about the concrete issues of the day. Their message was intended either to lead the community to repentance, or give them hope. Apocalyptic tends to give up on this world improving without God’s dramatic intervention: destroying evil, and creating a new heaven and earth. Prophecy is more rooted in history; apocalyptic, beyond history. Because much of Zechariah is obscure, it is uncertain who ‘him whom they have pierced’ might be. Christians see it as a prophecy about Jesus. The ‘fountain to purify from sin’ in verse 13:1 evokes baptism.

More Baptismal Imagery
What a beautiful way to capture being baptized and becoming a disciple of Jesus: taking off our old nature, our soiled garments, and putting on a new white garment, clothing ourselves with Christ! For many early Christians, this was not just a matter of words. At their baptism, they would literally take off the clothing that represented their old way of life, and put on a new white baptismal garment after coming out of the water. As the Baptismal Rite puts it “You have become a new creation, and clothed yourself in Christ.” Has a baptismal garment been handed down in your family? How would you describe having clothed yourself in Christ? Does ‘being clothed in Christ’ impact how you live from day to day? Could it?

Praying in Solitude
So opens our Gospel this weekend. His praying in solitude led Jesus to ask his disciples how he was perceived. It also led to his insight about his future. Through praying in solitude, he was able to make peace with the meaning of suffering; could appreciate that through losing his life, he could save it, and that the same is true for us. Can you trust Jesus enough to pick up your cross? When have you experienced that in denying yourself, you have experienced new life?

A Joyful Ministry
Meeting couples with a new baby; watching a video with them that walks through the meaning and ritual of baptism; discussing how faith can be an important part of family life; our baptismal preparation team includes the opportunity to do all of these things, and more. Afraid you might have conflicts when preparation sessions are scheduled? Not to worry! We try to maintain a sufficient number of couples in this ministry so that even when some are out of town, the program can go on with those remaining. Concerned you might not have all the answers? Not to worry! If you are willing to share about some of your experience with your own children and their faith, we will help you learn as you go. Please contact Deacon Dave or Fr. Bob to ask questions about this ministry. You too could be part of this joyful ministry!

Looking Ahead: 13TH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

1st Reading: 1 Kings 19:16b, 19-20
Elisha’s call

2nd Reading: Galatians 5:1, 13-18
Live by the Spirit

No looking back!

Succession Planning
Next weekend, our first reading will feature Elijah anointing Elisha to be his prophetic successor. Yes, succession planning has been around that long! At Stewardship Council this year, one of our goals: raising awareness that serving the Lord is not just about our finding the right ministry, then staying forever. Like Elijah, once we are engaged in a ministry, we should be looking for others to invite into ministry, and into deeper parish involvement. Recently Pope Francis spoke of how important it is to see the goodness in others. See the goodness, let others know, and then let them know ‘we have a place, a ministry for folks with gifts like yours!’ When you hear about Elijah and Elisha next week, think about who you might throw your cloak over!

Summer Reading
Want to know more about St. Paul and his message? A good introduction: Meeting St. Paul Today, Daniel Harrington, S.J. Fr. Harrington is one of our most respected Catholic biblical scholars today, and in 145 pages, you will be amazed at how much you will learn! Want more depth? Read Paul, A Critical Life by Fr. Jerome Murphy O’Connor – by the time you finish, you’ll feel like you have walked hundreds of miles with Paul, listened in as he thought through the problems in Galatia, Corinth and elsewhere, and sat with him as he dictated his letters. Other fine books on Paul: The Letters of Paul, Conversations in Context, Calvin Roetzel, or In Search of Paul, John Dominic Crossan & Jonathan Reed. Brief, yet incredibly profound is Carey Walsh’s Chasing Mystery. This short book delves into biblical theology, opening up incredible insight to some of the most well known passages in the Old and New Testaments. This book is not a dry text about how to study the Bible … it is about the incredible encounter with God that is possible through a careful reading of the Bible. Her Catholic, sacramental perspective incorporates insights and teaching of saints, doctors of the church, and the best biblical scholars. You will never see Bible stories in the same way again.

Summer Mission Appeal Collection Next Weekend

On the weekend of June 29 and 30, Deacon Matt Coriale will be visiting our parish from the Catholic Diocese of Lexington, Kentucky to raise support for mission work within his diocese. The Diocese of Lexington includes the Appalachian mountain region of Kentucky. Throughout the diocese, and especially in Appalachia, many women and men work with those in financial or spiritual poverty, bringing the gospel to life and caring for those in need. This work would not be possible without the generous support of others through mission appeals.

Deacon Matt will be preaching at all masses and sharing the Good News of our brothers and sisters in Christ from Lexington, Kentucky. A second collection will be taken up to support the mission activities there. Please be generous in your support of this important work being carried out in the name of Christ.

Mercy Prayer Center, a ministry of spirituality offers a quiet place for holistic growth and healing. We are centered in an awareness of God's compassionate love and the hospitality of Catherine McAuley, foundress of the Sisters of Mercy of the Americas. Through collaboration and mutuality we provide opportunities for the formation of Christian leaders; we encourage people of all faiths to come and discern, claim, and respond to God's ongoing call. Mercy Prayer Center offers a variety of daily, weekly and monthly spiritual opportunities for individuals, groups, parishes and organizations. Built in the 1860’s, the Prayer Center located at 65 Highland Avenue in Rochester, NY has a lovely chapel which can accommodate 30 to 40 people comfortably; 12 bedrooms, large living and dining rooms and a beautiful library. Mercy Prayer Center invites you to the soothing stillness of a place apart to see, hear, and feel the wonders of God's love. Accommodations can be arranged for a stay of a few hours, overnight, or several days. It is the perfect place to get away from TV, telephones and daily routines so one can encounter God. Mercy Prayer Center also hosts programs at other Rochester area locations including St. Bernard’s School of Theology & Ministry. Electronic Funds Transfer

In today’s world, banking is continually evolving to more efficient and easier means of paying bills and moving funds. Here at St. Louis, we offer the ability for our parishioners to make their Sunday contributions and Diocesan second collections via Electronic Funds Transfer (EFT). This is an easy and convenient way to have your contributions sent to our accounts electronically without writing checks or using envelopes, while saving the parish money and helping our budget. You can simply fill out an “EFT Authorization Agreement” form and enclose a voided check. The form is available on our website or at the Parish Ministry Center. You can discontinue at any time or temporarily suspend, if needed. Please consider using EFT for your monthly contributions. If you already use EFT, we ask that you please update your information on the new form and evaluate your current giving level. If you have any questions, call Patty Macera at the Ministry Center, (585) 586-5675, ext. 222. May God Bless you for your generous gift of treasure.

Spotlight on Baptism

Next Baptismal Preparation - July 17
For expectant parents, or those seeking baptism for an infant, the next baptismal preparation session will be July 17, at 7:00 PM in the Parish Meeting Hall. Please call Birdie (586-5675) to let us know you plan to attend. Thinking about joining the baptismal preparation team? Put this date on your calendar and check out what we do! For more information, speak with any of the baptismal team members: Kevin & Teresa Boland, Kathy & Russ Calcagno, Jeff & Robin Donlon, Mary Ellen Holvey, Sue Payne, Deacon Dave & Barb Snyder, or Fr. Bob. With this Monday being the Solemnity of the Birth of John the Baptist, this seems like the perfect time to thank the members of our baptismal team for taking on this rewarding ministry, and for shepherding so many couples through the preparation process!

Christian Initiation for Children
When infants are baptized, preparation for baptism is for the parents, who then share their faith with their child, teach them to pray, give them training in the virtues, and help them grow into being a well formed Christian. As a community of faith, we assist parents in all of the above through our various faith formation and sacramental preparation programs. What of older children who haven’t been baptized? When children are old enough to understand something about prayer, and God, and our Christian faith and come forward for baptism, there is a process to prepare them to receive the sacrament, the Rite of Christian Initiation for Children (RCIC). Not unlike the RCIA, this is not intended to be an explanation of everything one ever needs to know to become Catholic. It’s getting started on the path. Is this a ministry that might use your gifts well? Want to learn more? Contact Fr. Bob at ring@dor.org or 586-5675, ext. 225.

Needed: Double Stroller
Elizabeth Ministry has the privilege of providing material resources for a mother of four children, which include young twins. With the help of Saint’s Place and the generosity of our parishioners during our Mother’s Day drive, we have been able to help fulfill most all of her needs for her family. A need that goes unfulfilled, though, is that of a double stroller. Do you have one in good condition you could donate to Elizabeth Ministry? Please call our voicemail at 586-5675, ext. 345 and leave a message. Thank you!

Chair Repair Needed!
Do you – or someone you know – refurbish wooden chairs with rush-seats? We have several of our “Church Chairs” that need the seats re-done … and if there’s a handyperson with a flair for that work, we’d love to enlist him/her to offer TLC to these furnishings! Contact: Sally at the Ministry Center, 586-5675 or sschrecker@dor.org.

Thank you to St. Louis Parish for your unwavering support!
Perhaps you have seen pieces in the bulletin about Cursillo, but still are not quite sure. Cursillo is about forming leaders for the parish community who are rooted in faith, have a renewed relationship with the Lord, have experienced just what Christian community can be, and have been exposed to a process that can carry them through the good times and the hard times in living out their faith and serving the community. The weekend retreat begins on a Thursday evening and ends Sunday afternoon, but as with most true spiritual experiences, at the end of the weekend you won’t know where the time went, and will wish the experience could go on forever. There is still time to apply for the upcoming women’s weekend, July 25-28. The next men’s weekend is November 7-10. Ask Msgr. Krieg, Fr. Ray or Fr. Bob for details.

Take Up Your Cross

Every believer can, in suffering, become a sharer in the redemptive suffering of Christ. The Church understands that there is a virtue in consciously uniting one’s own suffering to the passion of Jesus. The paschal mystery consists of Christ’s passion, death and resurrection. The first portion of that mystery centers in the image of Christ crucified, that is, it focuses on the image of the cross. John Paul II writes, “[Jesus] dies nailed to a cross. But if at the same time in this weakness there is accomplished His lifting up, confirmed by the power of the resurrection, then this means that the weakness of all human sufferings are capable of being infused with the same power of God manifested in Christ’s cross.”

The cross, therefore, becomes for us believers a dual symbol. In it we behold the horror of deliberately inflicted human suffering, that is, torture unto death. At the same time, given that the redemption of the world takes place through the cross of Christ and that as members of his body, the Church, we can unite our sufferings to his redemptive suffering, the cross becomes a sign of the ultimate victory of God. The cross is a central symbol for all Christians. It reminds us of the suffering and life-giving sacrifice of Jesus.

Self-sacrifice is part and parcel of being a family. Parents and children are all called upon from time to time to change or give up their own plans or desires to accommodate those of someone else. In this Sunday’s Gospel, Jesus tells his disciples that it will be no different for those who belong to his family. “If anyone wants to be a follower of mine, let him renounce himself and take up his cross every day and follow me.”

As a family, discuss ways that parents and children make sacrifices for one another. Share some recent examples, expressing what the experiences were like for each person involved. Talk about what the disciples sacrificed in order to follow Jesus and what they received as a result.

Incorporate the Beatitudes into Daily Life

The Beatitudes* (Matthew 5:3-12) provide a rich blueprint for Christian living. Their wisdom can help all to be more humble, patient, just, transparent, loving, forgiving and free. It’s precisely the example of lived faith needed to draw people to the Church.

3. Blessed are the poor in spirit, for theirs is the kingdom of heaven.
4. Blessed are they who mourn, for they will be comforted.
5. Blessed are the meek, for they will inherit the land.
6. Blessed are they who hunger and thirst for righteousness, for they will be satisfied.
7. Blessed are the merciful, for they will be shown mercy.
8. Blessed are the clean of heart, for they will see God.
9. Blessed are the peacemakers, for they will be called children of God.
10. Blessed are they who are persecuted for the sake of righteousness, for theirs is the kingdom of heaven.
11. Blessed are you when they insult you and persecute you and utter every kind of evil against you [falsely] because of me.
12. Rejoice and be glad, for your reward will be great in heaven. Thus they persecuted the prophets who were before you.
