BIBLE INTERPRETATION FOR NON-READERS

For those who love to read, books on the Bible, or Scripture interpretation, commentaries … ways to get into the Bible through reading are limitless. But what about those who don’t love to read, or who have read, but now are looking for other windows into God’s Word?

Centuries ago, stained glass windows provided one answer to familiarizing believers with the stories of faith. For the illiterate, scenes from the Bible, from lives of the saints, depiction of the sacraments in stain glass all served to ground folks visually in the faith, from the earliest age. Paintings, frescos, statues, even the very architecture of churches and cathedrals have been a means to convey spiritual truth.

Yes, there is the art of Bible interpretation, the art of apologetics. Have artists had a significant impact on our understanding of Bible, and faith? You bet! Often art is not just representative, but also interpretive – probing the deeper meanings behind the stories. Here is but one example: St. Paul’s conversion on the road to Damascus. He was thrown off his horse, right? Well, truth be told, the Bible never says that, and the likelihood that he would have been traveling horseback is very slim. The ‘thrown off his horse’ tradition began in the 12th century, at the hands of painters striving to interpret Paul’s conversion. Ever since, artists have often depicted St. Paul on the ground, a horse looming above.

Some may scream, is artistic license appropriate with important matters of faith?? Ahh – there are many ways to probe deeper into the mysteries. Michael Schrauzer says this concerning the Conversion of St. Paul by Francesco Mazzola: “The biblical account, of course, makes no mention of a horse; the tradition of depicting the episode as an equestrian scene dates from the 12th century. But the image of the fallen rider has important symbolic meaning. A rider on a horse represents man in control of nature, or the spiritual man in control of his own fleshly nature. Thus, a man thrown by his horse is a man no longer in control of himself. Saul is becoming Paul, the slave of Christ, and his sword, a symbol of power and one of Paul’s pictorial attributes, lies useless on the ground.” (‘getting off one’s high horse’ comes to mind.) Another famous depiction: Caravaggio’s. View it, and tons of paintings at Mark Harden’s Artchive, on line. Frequently, paintings of St. Paul’s seem unbalanced – a state necessary for us to let go of one world view in order to be open to another. At Art and the Bible (artbible.info), you can find the Bible, verse by verse, with paintings interpreting various passages inserted throughout.

One great retreat experience for me was a ‘lectio divina with art’ retreat. We would slowly read a given Bible passage, then meditate on an artist’s interpretation, to experience the artist’s insights, which then could open up new vistas for each of us on retreat. Praying with art – try it! Peace, Fr. Bob

Sunday Communion Service - June 16

The Great Prophet Elijah

In our first reading, we meet Elijah, great prophet of the Old Testament, revered alike in the Christian, Moslem and Jewish tradition. We also hear the first instance in the Bible of a person being raised from the dead. Who was Elijah? This man of the desert was a great prophet when King Ahab reigned in the northern kingdom, Israel, a time when apostasy and idolatry were rampant there. Ahab’s wife/queen Jezebel had brought the worship of Baal into the kingdom, and tried to suppress the traditional worship of God. Elijah powerfully defended worship of Yahweh over that of the Phoenician God Baal; miracles helped communicate his authority as a man of God, and the truth of his message. (Messages in today’s reading: that God is faithful, is the author of life, and defender of widows and the poor.) Reading the Elijah/ Elisha cycle in the book of Kings is great background to Luke’s Gospel, for Luke sees Jesus as a prophet like Elijah; similar miracles accompany them both.

The Local Connection

Did you know that Carmelites trace their roots back to the prophet Elijah, and to Mt. Carmel in Northern Israel, where Elijah had his decisive showdown with the prophets of Baal? Check out the webpage of our local Carmelites, www.carmelitesofrochester.org

Conversion Stories

In Galatians today, St. Paul speaks to us in the first person of his conversion: from seeing Jesus as an impostor to accepting him as Messiah. In Acts of the Apostles, Luke also tells the story he has heard about Paul’s conversion experience. Fr. Jerome Murphy O’Connor, in his St. Paul, A Critical Life, provides an important clarification. While the conversion to believing in Jesus was most dramatic, Paul, like most people, underwent a variety of conversion experiences over the course of his life. His first was becoming a Pharisee. Then he became a Jewish believer in Christ. Then an Apostle to the Gentiles. Over that time, he experienced a variety of conversions in how he understood and spoke of the Law. We all have multiple conversion experiences through our life. What are some of yours? Do you ever share them as openly as Paul does in Galatians?

The NYS Legislative session will end in just three weeks. The Governor continues to insist that legislation needs to be passed that expands abortion in NYS, by allowing late term abortions; requiring fewer regulations on abortion clinics and allowing non-physicians to complete abortions. Our local State Senators and Assembly leaders will be critical to the defeat of this bill and need to hear that we do not need legislation like this and that we strongly oppose it. New York State already has one of the highest abortion rates in the country and NYS funds almost half the abortion with taxpayer dollars.

We strongly encourage Catholics and all people of good will to contact your legislative leader IMMEDIATELY. Your State Senator can be found by going to www.nysenate.gov and put your information in "Find my Senator" in the upper left hand corner. For the State Assembly visit www.assembly.state.ny.us and follow “Assembly Members” to locate your representative. Call their District Office that is listed today and tell him that abortion expansion legislation should not even be considered by the Legislature.

You can also visit the New York State Catholic Conference at www.nyscatholic.org to learn about this bill, or find a legislative leader.

Visitation

Each Gospel writer has particular insights which he brings into especially clear focus. In telling the Jesus story, Luke focuses on Jesus as a great prophet, in the style of Elijah & Elisha. Luke could also subtitle the ministry of Jesus: ‘God has visited his people’. Luke is the source of the Visitation, Mary’s visit to Elizabeth, when the infants in the womb first begin their relationship. Mary & Joseph bring the infant to the temple is another visitation story; the boy Jesus in the temple provides yet another visitation. Sending the 12, then sending the 72 to prepare for his visiting various villages … the list goes on. The Holy Spirit in Acts of the Apostles is a story of God visiting his people. That visitation still happens today. Lord, help us recognize the time of our visitation!

Future of the Church

On Sunday, June 23rd we will hear St. Paul tell us: "...you are all children of God in Christ. For all who were baptized into Christ have clothed yourself with Christ." Words straight out of the Rite of Baptism! We will be celebrating the Baby Blessing Mass June 23rd at the 9 AM Mass, honoring the newly baptized and blessing them and their families. This Week’s Tithing Will Support Isaiah House

Next Week’s Tithing Will Support Notre Dame Learning Center

The Notre Dame Learning Center was established in 2004 to address the needs of Rochester children having difficulty in school. Many city children have poor study habits and lack basic reading and math skills. Many of them need help outside the regular classroom setting. No matter how dedicated their teachers are, some children fall through the cracks. Some parents and guardians are reluctant or unable to help with homework because of their own educational background, or lack of it. Some children have no one who is really interested in them; no one who gives them one-on-one attention. At the Notre Dame Learning Center, children are tutored on an individual basis. Each student works on an academic area suggested by the parent, teacher, or as the result of diagnostic testing. Tutors not only help the children in their academic area of need, but also help them gain self-confidence and inspire them to be the best they can be. Parents say the bond formed between student and tutor is as beneficial as the academic help. The Notre Dame Learning Center now serves over 40 school children each semester at its facility at the Charles Settlement House on Parkway in the city of Rochester. Our students come from the Rochester City School District as well as public, Catholic, and charter schools. We also assist students from private schools. Tutoring is free; however, there is a $10 per child per class registration fee for those who can afford it.

Stewardship: Ministry Directory

Have you checked out the latest issue of our St. Louis Ministry Directory? Available at the entrances of church, it is a great snapshot of the amazing variety of ministries here at St. Louis; the many ways you can take the next step in your faith journey – from believing, to action. Get a copy to put with your Bible, or in a prayer corner, or somewhere that you can look up contact information for a ministry you may need, or for whom to contact when you discover how you have gifts and ministry to offer. Two conversions we all undergo at some point in our life: realizing we need others (accepting ministry), realizing we are called to offer ministry.
We’re Half Way There!!!

Two Months Done and Two Months to Go!

But, We Need Your Help to Avoid Costly Construction Delays.

Kudos and many thanks to St. Louis participants who at times braved our harsh spring weather when early construction work was out in the elements. Nearly 2/3rds of those who signed up have yet to schedule a work assignment. Unfilled work assignments result in unnecessary and costly construction delay.

Now that we have a roof over our heads and more seasonally warm weather, working conditions have improved.

Now is the time to follow through on your commitment and schedule yourself for a work assignment on a day of your choice. Your help is needed. You can register and schedule yourself by going to: www.habitatinterfaithpartnership.org. You can also contact one of our HIP volunteer coordinators who can assist you with registering and scheduling. Contact:

- Kathleen Anderson: call 385-7601; email kanderson51@rochester.rr.com,
- Brain McMahon: call 383-6005; email bjm@rochester.rr.com, or
- Delaina Infantino: call 586-1115.

You can make a difference and you will enjoy the experience! If you have been thinking about working on this 200th Rochester Habitat house, sign-up, register and get scheduled now!
Thank You

As we wrap up our school year and prepare to launch our high school seniors, I have much to be thankful for. I reflect over the past four years that I have been the youth minister, and the wonderful young people and parents who have enriched my life. I have enjoyed watching them grow into delightful and faith filled young adults. I have been inspired by many of our teens, but this class of 2013 is special.

They are the leaders in youth group…. in prayer, in small group discussions, and in contributing to the welfare of others. They are the cantors, lectors, Eucharistic ministers, ushers, and musicians at Mass. They help out at Saint’s Place, Bethany House, St. Michael’s Church, and with Habitat for Humanity. They serve the poor in Rochester and Ecuador, and work to help the needy in Haiti and South Sudan. They celebrate their faith with other teens in Indianapolis, Steubenville, Washington D.C, and right here at St. Louis. They are the “Young Church” and we send them forth with the confidence that God will guide and inspire them “to renew the face of the earth.”

This Sunday, June 9th at the 5:00 p.m. Mass, we will honor them with a special blessing. Please join us in recognizing and thanking them for the gift they have given us all.

Have a great week, Dan McBride

The Gospel of Life!

Another Book that Didn't Make the Bible?

Quite the opposite, in fact! Blessed John Paul II’s 1995 Encyclical, Evangelium Vitae (The Gospel of Life,) notes that “the Gospel of God’s love for man, the Gospel of the dignity of the person and the Gospel of life are a single and indivisible Gospel.” The Church’s unwavering defense of life from conception to natural death continues to play a central role in her mission of the New Evangelization, highlighted in this Year of Faith.

Next weekend, June 15-16, faithful from around the world will gather in Rome with Pope Francis in a communal witness to the sacredness of all human life, in celebration of the very heart of Jesus’ redemptive mission: “I came that they may have life, and have it abundantly.” The whole world needs to hear the message - all human life is sacred - the lives of the aged, the sick, the dying, the unborn, the physically and mentally challenged, and all those who suffer. The event will also be a time to celebrate, affirm, and encourage all those who follow in the footsteps of the Good Shepherd by tending to the physical, emotional, psychological, and spiritual needs of those who are aged, disabled, ill, unborn, homebound, dying or who suffer in any way.

So, we are in Pittsford, not Rome - what can we do? In summary - celebrate life, not just next weekend, but always! Check out the ministries available at St. Louis - consider following in the footsteps of the Good Shepherd! Read the encyclical - it’s freely available online and relatively easy to read! And pray, pray, pray!

The website annusfidei.va was a prominent source for the above. Further information may be found at several other sites. Or, see me after Mass sometime, or contact me at碘econdave@gmail.com.

God bless, Deacon Dave

Holy Orders

Have you ever experienced an ordination? On Saturday morning, June 22, 10AM at Sacred Heart Cathedral, Michael Costik, Peter Mattola and David Tedesche will be ordained to the Order of Priest for ministry in our diocese. If you have never been to the Cathedral, or have never experienced an ordination, here is a wonderful opportunity to do both, and to enrich your faith, while also supporting these three young men. Supporting vocations can take many forms!
St. Louis School parents honored all faculty members with a lovely luncheon on Friday, May 24 as part of Teacher Appreciation Day. The Parish Meeting Hall walls were decorated with individual poster boards for each teacher that had been decorated by their students. The tables were set with linens and fine china and centerpieces. Parents funded a most delicious, bountiful lunch that far surpassed the bagged lunch that is normally consumed on school days.

The nicest part of this luncheon was that all faculty could eat at the same time and for an extended amount of time! Being appreciated in this way was very much appreciated, so a heartfelt ‘Thank You’ to all who participated.
