What’s with Purgatory?

Have you ever been there? In the heat of anger and frustration, you blurted out or did something that was profoundly hurtful to someone you love, more than you could have imagined. Things calm, they forgive you, and tell you ‘It’s OK’. But you know it is not OK. You still have to face the ugly part that is in all of us, a part we would rather not face. You also have to forgive yourself. That experience can provide insight into the concept of purgatory. Are any of us so sanctified, that at the hour of death we are completely ready to be at peace in the holy, totally loving presence of God, without a bit more purification? Both Benedict and Pope Francis have clearly stated, purgatory is not a place but a process; about purification, not retribution.

Another homey, partial analogy helped me get it. Arriving at an airport, we can quite easily have things with us that have no place on a plane. We need to empty our pockets, open our suit case, check for, and get rid of anything that could be hurtful or dangerous. “Oh, I forgot that was in there….” Like airport security, purgatory is baggage inspection. We need to let go of dangerous, destructive baggage (any remnants of sin) that has no place in heaven.

Many folks sound like perfect saints in obituaries, or when a loved one speaks at the funeral. But deep down, don’t we know, the deceased was neither a miserable wretch, nor a perfect saint: they were a good, ordinary soul, but still in process. Think of purgatory as the process of reviewing life’s accounts, allowing the grace of Christ to pay any old debts, a place to be purified of accumulated scars or defilements, a place to heal troubled memories, to let the love and mercy of Christ penetrate the darkest corners. The desire to pray for those who have died, to help the process, is not just a common sentiment across cultures and history, it was universally accepted as Christian practice in the first centuries of the church.

Medieval imagination gave purgatory a bad rap. Dante’s description in the Divine Comedy, and subsequent paintings based on his work exaggerated the idea of punishment and fire in purgatory, leading to fear and misunderstanding. Purifying fire and punishing fire are two different things. To get beyond the terror, think ‘gathered around the Easter fire’. Think ‘flame in my hearth’. Think ‘tongues of flame at Pentecost’. One of my favorite songs captures the spirit: ‘O Comforter, draw near, within my heart appear, and kindle it, Thy holy flame bestowing. O let it freely burn, til earthly passions turn to dust and ashes in its heat consuming; and let Thy glorious light shine ever on my sight, and clothe me round, the while my path illumining.’ We Believe. We Belong. We Remember. We pray for the deceased. They pray for us. We help each other on the journey.

Peace, Fr. Bob

Water in the Desert

Next week, we celebrate the Feast of the Dedication of the Lateran Basilica in Rome. The Liturgy of the Word will invite us to dramatically broaden our vision of ‘church’. Ezekiel will describe his vision of a renewed temple, of a second chance for Israel, a vision of the new creation we can experience through the sacraments. Much of Israel, both then and now, is arid. Picture stark, desolate hills (the Judean desert), a sea so salty that nothing can live in it, its shores, rocks coated with salt! Now in your mind’s eye, bring into focus Ezekiel’s revelation: water flowing from the temple, first a trickle, then a broad stream too deep to cross. It brings new life, freshness, and abundance from the temple to every place it flows. Fruit trees on its banks provide not only food, but medicine. Even the Dead Sea is made fresh and restored to life. Those images brought amazing hope to people in Ezekiel’s day. To bring the message to today: God’s love and grace, poured out through the sacrifice of Christ, flows from the sanctuary and altar, among everyone present. Then, when we are sent forth, we flow out of the doors of the church, to bring grace, hope, mercy, peace; God’s love, where ever we go. Now there is a powerful way to understand ‘church’, and what we are about every weekend!

You Who?

On Sundays in Ordinary Time, the second reading is an alternative preaching option; not chosen for its connection to the 1st reading or Gospel, it simply provides us with more of the riches of God’s Word. On Feast Days, however, all three readings are intended to connect. Without looking at the whole letter to the Corinthians, and the specific issues Paul addresses in this chapter, we might think ‘oh, this is about me!’; I am the temple of God, the Holy Spirit dwells in me, and I am holy. That may well be true, but Paul’s point is much different. The ‘you’, in ‘you are the temple of God’, is addressed to the community. The community is God’s temple, the Holy Spirit dwells in the community; the community is holy. Reading through the first few chapters of this letter reveals quickly that Paul was deeply concerned about conflicts tearing apart the community. Some folks thought the Holy Spirit was their personal possession. Individualism was marring the holiness of God’s temple, namely the church community (How else to understand ‘I laid the foundation, others build on it’) Before next weekend, consider: have I viewed this passage in the way Paul intended, as a message about the centrality, unity, and holiness of church community?

Reverence for the Body

Not often does All Souls fall on Sunday, putting the Feast of the Dedication of the Lateran Basilica on the next Sunday. When it does, first we consider our reverence for the deceased, including care for their remains, and eternal life. The following week, Jesus’ cleansing the temple. He predicts that it will be destroyed, but that he will raise it up. The temple was destroyed. His resurrected body becomes the new temple. He was referring to his body as it appeared on Easter, as it is present in the Eucharist, and as it is manifest in the community: gathered in faith, we are the body of Christ. Almost too amazing for the mind to absorb!

Election Day is Coming This Tuesday, November 4: Vote for Catholic Values

As Catholics, we should be guided more by our moral convictions than by our attachment to a political party or interest group. When necessary, our participation should help transform the party to which we belong; we should not let the party transform us in such a way that we neglect or deny fundamental moral truths. We are called to bring together our principles and our political choices, our values and our votes, to help build a better world.

THIS WEEK’S TITHING WILL SUPPORT ST. MICHAEL’S WOODSHOP

NEXT WEEK’S TITHING WILL SUPPORT ANGEL CARE

The Angel Care Ministry was started in 1985 to help expectant mothers choose life over other alternatives for their baby. Angel Care receives referrals from various social agencies, hospitals, schools, etc. in Monroe County. Requests are for new portable cribs, and layettes made up of gently used and new baby items: (NB to 12 months), blankets, diapers, wipes, baby body products, etc.). On occasion, they provide needed clothing items to children up to 18 months old. Angel Care filled 374 requests in 2013. As of September 30, 2014, Angel Care has had over 230 requests alone for portable baby beds, (averaging approximately 33 per month) since the beginning of the year. (They were closed during July and August.) They also provided just under 230 layettes during this time. Since portable baby beds have increased in cost over the past year to $50 - $55 each, Angel Care takes advantage of sales to avoid paying the higher amount.

Our support of this ministry enables Angel Care to ensure that mothers who seek help through referrals, will be comforted in knowing that their new born will have a safe place to sleep as well as needed baby items. 100% of our tithe will be used to purchase new portable beds. Most layette clothing items are donated through parish appeals and various groups who hold baby showers for Angel Care throughout the year. There are no administrative costs. The volunteers of this ministry thank you for your belief in them that will help their continued service of provide new-born necessities to mothers in need.

Calling All Young Musicians!

We would really love to include you in our teen ensemble if you are musically inclined. For those of you from grades 6 through 12, we are looking for your help. Unlike some of our other choirs, this is a VERY small commitment of time, as we realize that you are busy! We only sing once a month at the 5:00 pm Sunday mass, and practice for just one hour before mass. These are typically the first Sundays of the month, so our next one will be Sunday, December 7. Please bring your instruments and/or your voice. Contact Stephanie Honz for more information at shonz@rochester.rr.com

Saint’s Place urgently needs warm, clean winter coats, hats, gloves and boots. There are many refugees, newly arrived and those who have been here a few years that need our help with warm winter clothing. At the present time we have no men’s small or medium winter jackets, no men’s boots and a very limited number of children and ladies winter coats. We need coats today! Can you help?

Rite of Christian Initiation of Adults…RCIA

Bringing people into a relationship with Christ, into the community of faith, and into the sacramental life of our church is why we are here! The RCIA is the process for welcoming adults into the Roman Catholic Church. Whether a person has never been baptized, has been baptized in another church but wishes to become Catholic, or was baptized Catholic, but never was fully initiated (being confirmed and receiving 1st Eucharist), we have a process to help with the next steps, leading to life in Christ, community, and all that the Lord offers us through the sacraments. Even if you are not sure if you are ready for the next step in a journey of faith, it doesn’t hurt to learn how it works! If you are interested in learning more about this process, please contact Father Bob or call the office.

Hi Teens,

This has been a busy weekend celebrating Halloween with costumes, parties and inevitably loads of candy! It's great to partake in the fun, but important to remember another celebration this weekend...All Saints' Day.

Each year on November 1, we remember all the Catholic saints; this includes those officially recognized by the Church and loved ones who have passed on.

The Saints are one of my favorite things about our Catholic faith. They allow us to have a wide variety of role models...regular & flawed humans just like us, who devoted their lives to Christ. My favorite saint is Elizabeth Ann Seton, who was a teacher, mother, wife, (a New Yorker!) and eventually a religious sister. Her incredible story inspires me, and I am able to relate to her as a wife and a teacher.

There is a patron saint for each of us...whether you are a doctor, musician, lover of animals, mother, father, traveler etc. Consider your name (first and last), occupation, ethnicity, and passions and do a little research about some saints with whom you might relate!

We are having a great time at our Sunday night meetings. Join us to pray, laugh, play games, eat pizza and make new friends!

Have a great week!
Molly Hickey (Mr. McBride's Daughter)

“We Pray For Each Other”

On the Feast of All Souls, we pray for the souls of all those who have died. There are many choices of readings for this day, all focusing on our belief in the resurrection of the dead and Jesus' promise of eternal life. The Gospel story of the raising of Lazarus offers us many important insights about this aspect of our faith.

Jesus was good friends with Lazarus and his sisters, Martha and Mary. Lazarus had fallen ill, and Martha and Mary had sent word to Jesus. Jesus delays his journey to them, however, and when he arrives in Bethany, he finds that Lazarus is dead and has been buried for four days.

The scene described at Bethany is a sad one; Lazarus and his family have many friends who have come to mourn his death. Martha goes out to meet Jesus when he arrives. She cries with him, saying that if Jesus had been there, Lazarus would not have died. Yet she remains confident that God will do whatever Jesus asks. Jesus consoles her with the promise that Lazarus would rise from the dead. Martha affirms her belief that there will be resurrection of the dead in the last days. Jesus promises her even more; he says that he himself is the Resurrection and the life for all those who believe in him. Martha professes her faith in this, acknowledging that Jesus is Christ, the Son of God.

This is the profession of faith we continue to make, and it is the promise on which we base our hope for eternal life for ourselves and for all those who have died. In his death and Resurrection, Jesus has conquered death for all those who believe in him.

We believe that we continue to share a relationship with those who have died. When we pray for the souls of the faithful departed, we are praying for those whose souls are journeying through purgatory, being prepared for eternal life in heaven. We believe that our prayers for them will help to speed their journey to eternal life with God in heaven.

LOVE, AND GREAT PIES

WHAT GOES TOGETHER BETTER THAN THANKSGIVING” AND “PIE”!

A holiday pie sale is again being conducted to raise funds for our next and sixth Habitat house project in 2016 as a member of Habitat Interfaith Partnership (HIP). Like last year, pies are prepared by Kelly’s Farm Market of Hilton. They grow the fruit so the pies are made with the freshest ingredients. These extra deep 10” homemade fruit pies, made from scratch without preservatives, weigh approximately 4 ½ lbs., provide 8 to 10 generous servings and are absolutely delicious!

The pie selections include Apple Crumb, Apple-Raspberry, Pumpkin, and Christmas Crumb (Apple, Cranberry, & Pineapple), selling for $16.00 each. An Apple Crisp with no crust sells for $12.00. These pies freeze well so consider ordering for both Thanksgiving and Christmas!

Orders will be taken in the Narthex before and following all masses the weekend of November 8 & 9. Ordered pies will be available for pick-up Tuesday, November 25, 2 days prior to Thanksgiving. This has been a popular fund raiser and profitable since we earn about 40% from each sale. Thanks to all who help fund our next Habitat house project through our pie sale. You are making a difference in the lives of many people, one family at a time. Call Bob or Rosemary Scholl (585-381-3760) with any questions regarding the pies. (New for this year, we are opening up our pie sale to businesses and corporations who would like to order pies for a Christmas time delivery. These orders will likewise be taken during November, and the pies can be delivered directly to the business’s address. If interested, please call Bob or Rosemary Scholl for further information.)
