You Are Invited!

Yes, we have been invited! Did you catch that invitation to the Son’s wedding in today’s Gospel parable? The King told his servants: “Go out, therefore, into the main roads and invite to the feast whomever you find.” But then again, as disciples, having accepted the invitation, we are the King’s servants. We are definitely in this parable. We’ve been invited, we are sent to invite others.

The wedding feast in the Gospel led me to think of Engaged Encounter: “A wedding is a day, a marriage is a lifetime.” A wedding is the beginning of a sacrament through which love transforms the couple, over time, into one, and into a visible sign of God’s love, and Christ’s marriage to the Church. Each anniversary leads the couple closer to the ideal. (Seven Great Dates can help! Check the website for details.)

God made a covenant with each of us in Baptism, sealed it in Confirmation and 1st Eucharist, and renews and deepens it every time we come to Mass. At Eucharist, we say to Christ “I love you, and I am counting on You.”, while Christ says to us “I love you, and I am counting on you.” The more we prepare and participate, the more effectively Christ can transform us through love. (That’s why Bishop Matano so strongly urged regular participation in Mass in his pastoral letter.)

What about the wedding garment? At Baptisms: “See in this white garment an outward sign of your Christian dignity, and with family and friends to help by word and example, bring that dignity unstained to the everlasting kingdom of heaven.” True, it is appropriate to come to the wedding feast (Mass) dressed in a manner that shows respect to the holy mysteries we participate in, and to our fellow worshipers. But never forget that our wedding garment is a symbol for our efforts to love and lead a holy life during the week.

Almost every week in the bulletin, there are invitations. Invitations to get to know Christ better in Discovering Christ. Invitations to encounter Christ in the Scriptures through Bible Study. Or on a pilgrimage. Or in fellowship at a Saturday evening Bistro. Even CYO is an invitation, to see how Christians understand sports as a way to grow in virtue.

Last week the invitation was this: we were given an invitation to look at our stewardship, and how we support a vibrant parish that can offer so many opportunities every week. A special invitation at this time of year: to be a stewardship, and how we support a vibrant parish that can offer so many opportunities every week. A special invitation at this time of year: to be a part of the many ministries of the diocese by supporting them through the CMA. The diocese is a community of communities. The success of each parish and that of the diocese are intimately connected. The Lord is glorified through both local and diocesan ministries. If you have not contributed to the CMA before, please consider a $50 pledge, if you are able, to help us push forward to 100% participation. God bless you and those you love, Fr. Bob

Opening the Scriptures:
28th Sunday in Ordinary Time

1st Reading: Isaiah 25:6 – 10a
God will wipe away tears

2nd Reading: Philippians 4:12 – 14, 19 – 20
God will supply our needs

Gospel: Matthew 22:1 – 14
The kingdom is like a wedding feast

A Taste of the Future
Most believers have a hope, perhaps even a picture of what life might be like beyond this world, when God calls us home. Since we only know life in this world, usually it is a picture of our happiest moments in this life, cranked up a notch. The scriptures employ more than one symbol to capture life beyond death. Among the most powerful images: the eschatological banquet. Eschaton is Greek for ‘last’. Theologians use the term eschaton to speak of the end of the world, the end of time, the climax of history. Eschatology = study of the last things. The Eschatological Banquet = the feast at the end of time, the feast of eternity, feasting in the kingdom of God. Isaiah’s poetry today takes us there: juicy rich food, choice wine, with a host (the Lord of hosts) who will destroy every veil of sorrow, wipe away our tears, and share a love feast. Listen closely to the Eucharistic Prayer, and you will discover something amazing about this feast. We are provided the opportunity to practice our table manners, have a glimpse of the feast, spend time with those who will be at the table (the Communion of Saints), and have a taste of eternity every time we celebrate Eucharist. Mass is a foretaste and promise of the heavenly banquet.

Expressing Gratitude
From a jail cell, awaiting trial, Paul wrote his letter to the Philippians, a letter filled with more joy and peace of heart than any of his other surviving letters. In today’s excerpt, he is thanking the people of the church in Philippi for sending him assistance. Spend time with this passage, and pray that some of Paul’s confidence, as well as his gratitude, will rub off. Pray for the grace to be at peace in humble circumstance, as well as in abundance. Let his story remind you of times God has helped you find your way through the good times and the bad times, feast and famine.

The Long and Short of It
The Lectionary (the book that organizes our Bible readings for Mass) often gives a ‘short form’ and a ‘long form’ for a given reading. The presider or homilist makes a pastoral judgment about which is proclaimed. Sometimes, a short form is provided because the full passage is extremely long. Today, it is likely for a different reason. The short form only omits 4 verses, but can make this Gospel easier to understand. Why would a poor guy grab off the street be tossed out of the banquet for not wearing a wedding garment? Who just wanders around town in their best clothes every day anyway? Most likely, Jesus told two parables, each with its own point, making sense by itself. The first (vs. 1-10) dealt with the refusal by those first invited to enter the kingdom. The second (vs. 11-14) was a parable about being prepared. Since both spoke of a wedding feast, they were often remembered together. In time, perhaps they were combined as one parable. A good study Bible, like The New Oxford Annotated Bible (with Apocrypha, so we have all the books we Catholics consider inspired), has footnotes to explain such things succinctly.

More on Manners
It’s never too early for little ones to learn how to participate in Mass, learning about listening, reverence and respect. This Year of the Eucharist is a great time to reflect on which are the most holy and reverent parts of the Mass, and how best to help everyone be able to experience the awesome things that take place when Jesus speaks to us in the Gospel, and when Jesus takes the bread and wine, and transforms them into the holy gift of himself. God bless all the parents and grandparents who take on that task of teaching listening, reverence and respect!

Looking Ahead:
29th Sunday in Ordinary time

1st Reading: Isaiah 45:1, 4 – 6
From the rising of the sun to its setting

2nd Reading: 1 Thessalonians 1:1 – 5b
Giving thanks for the community

Gospel: Matthew 22:15 – 21
Give to God what is God’s

Fr. Juan and Don Murray are hosting a reflection group called “Word of Life”, which is part of the Focolare spirituality. You are most welcome to join us for our first meeting this Monday, October 16 at 7:15pm in the O’Connor Library in the Manse. (This is the brick building to the right of the main church entrance.) For more information please email Fr. Juan at Fr.Juan.Benitez@dor.org.

Next weekend, October 21/22, we celebrate World Mission Sunday. Pope Francis invites the entire Church to support young mission dioceses in Africa, Asia, the Pacific Islands, and parts of Latin America and Europe, where priests, religious and lay teachers serve some of the poorest of the poor. PLEASE KEEP THE Missions in your prayers and be generous in next week’s collection for the Society for the Propagation of the Faith.
Our Offering of Time & Treasure

Thanks to your presence, our Sunday Masses offer an oasis of peace and the warmth of community for all who come through our doors. Thanks to your Sunday offering each week, not only can we celebrate the Eucharist worthily and well but, your offering also supports all of our many ministries that make St. Louis such a wonderful place to belong, and make it possible for us to do as Jesus teaches, sharing our bounty through parish tithing, and our ministry of Saint’s Place. God bless you!

Just as we join together and make all that happens at St. Louis possible, so parishes around the diocese join together to make the vital ministries of our diocese possible. Please pray for the success of our Catholic Ministries Appeal.

Next Week’s Tithing Will Support Women’s Care Center

Founded in 1990, the Women’s Care Center, located at 3252 Lake Avenue in Rochester, is an independent, Catholic organization dedicated to Blessed Mother Teresa of Calcutta. They are the largest provider of material aid (formula, diapers, layettes, etc.) to new mothers in Monroe County. They serve the poorest of the poor.

All major social service agencies refer clients to them. All services are confidential and free of charge, including self-administered pregnancy tests and ultrasounds. Over 1200 families are served per year on average. They receive no local, state or federal funding. They are an example of the consistent life ethic in action. They help young women decide to have their babies, and continue to help them once they are mothers.

To help preserve the lives of unborn babies, please pray for all who serve and are served by this Center. To learn more, please visit http://rochesterwomenscare.com.

St. Louis School invites you to join us for a very special Mass and procession celebrating

The Year of the Eucharist

Thursday, October 19, 2017, 9:10 a.m.

Bishop Salvatore Matano will be joining the St. Louis School and St. Louis Church Community for this special day.
Refugees coming to Rochester, as you well know, are fleeing from unbearable circumstances…famine, civil war, ethnic cleansing, crippling poverty. Recently a Sudanese mother arrived with six young children, who had only months before witnessed their father being executed. They arrive in Rochester, ranked tenth poorest city in the United States. Poverty is a vicious enemy which strips people of their dignity, and self-worth. For newly arriving legal refugees, it is another daunting obstacle to overcome.

At Saint’s Place we want to prevent the refugees from becoming victims of poverty. We want to give more clothing, more household items and more educational opportunities to the refugees. We must encourage and support them to achieve the American dream. The importance of education in overcoming poverty cannot be minimized. We are preparing to launch a scholarship program so refugees can acquire higher skills or continue their education, thus ensuring them better paying jobs and a brighter future.

Often, we are asked: “Why do you do this? Why help strangers when here in the United States, we have so many living in poverty? The answer is simple, because we can and we must. It is our mission, privilege and responsibility, to “Welcome the Stranger”. The refugees are so grateful, they smile, clap their hands, hug us and best of all, they return with success stories!

May God bless you throughout this year and the next and know the deep gratitude the refugees and Saint’s Place have for your Patron Saint gift.

Sincerely, Isabel Miller, Executive Director
