A Great Season Ahead!

Next Sunday! Yes, next Sunday, the new and improved Seasons of Faith process rolls out for the young folks here at St. Louis. It promises to be a real blessing for the children signed up, for the catechists, for parents, families, for all of us! What’s so new?

True, folks accustomed to the 11:00am Mass time will need to adjust to 11:15am. Parking will require a bit more attention until we get the new pattern under our belts. But the benefit? By tripling our time for Seasons of Faith sessions, we will be able to move from a fast, primarily education only process to a much more deliberate, well planned formation process that includes additional prayer, a component about service, and community building activities. We also plan to use the extra time to incorporate technology for multimedia review, games to reinforce learning, along with expanding on the topics of the week. Who had time to include anything about the lives of the saints when sessions were only 20 or at most 30 minutes long (on a good day)? Now, inspiring saints can fit into the curriculum, along with learning more about the parts of the Mass, and a host of other topics.

Staying the same? Our children spending time with faithful catechists, who give their time out of love for the faith, and for our younger members! Yes, that will stay the same. Sunday Mass as part of the package … that connection remains, though now families have both the 9am and 11:15am masses available to them, depending on their schedules. Giving some time to have God part of our life can also be less hurried with the new schedule.

The materials that will be used are the same as our Tuesday Living Faith program. This includes a spiral curriculum. In other words, topics are revisited year to year, but each year in a deeper and more comprehensive way, as children mature. For instance, prayer is covered each year, but how to pray grows as children’s understanding of faith and of God grows. Learning about the Bible is part of every grade, but what gets covered deeply unfolds as the learner’s ability to understand grows. In general education, the more time one has to "unpack" a particular subject, the more young people come to fully understand. In the new Seasons of Faith, with more time available, catechists will be able to help the class move into a richer relationship with Jesus, a more transforming experience of community, a better grasp of living the faith. Please pray that the tremendous potential will be realized, and that, as God always does, God will multiply our five loaves and two fish into a banquet of faith, to nourish young disciples, and all of us!

Blessings to you, your household, and especially our catechists and young disciples! Fr. Bob

All Greek to Me

Wisdom, or The Wisdom of Solomon is a book written in Greek during the intertestamental period. It is in our Catholic, and the Eastern Orthodox Bible, though we call it deuterocanonical, or a book on the 2nd list of canonical, inspired books. Protestants consider it part of the Apocrypha (derived from the Greek word for hidden), thus not on par with the other biblical books. Not only was Wisdom written in Greek, it is the result of the interface between Judaism and the Greco Roman world and philosophy. While the book is quite Hellenized, its author, an Alexandrian Jew, wasn’t attempting to promote Greek culture. Rather, he is appropriating some of it, while pointing out that Jewish tradition is much wiser, and has much more to offer.

Today’s passage illustrates the impact of Greek philosophy in the latest books of the Old Testament. We can see one traditional Hebrew idea, namely God’s ways above our ways, and that wisdom comes from God, as a gift. However, the body burdens the soul and weighs down the mind? That is pure Greek philosophy. In traditional Hebrew thinking, the body and soul are distinct yet indivisible partners in human life. Rather than the body imprisoning or weighing down the soul, the body is a God-given, sacred gift necessary for us to have a human life. In Hebrew thought, there is no personhood without the marriage of body and spirit, or body, mind and spirit. That is one reason that burying the dead is such a sacred duty in Jewish practice – the body is holy, to be treated with reverence in life and in death. A question we might consider: how much does thinking alien to the revelation we have received from God impact some of our everyday understanding, decisions and actions?

Very Persuasive

Are you familiar with Paul’s letter to Philemon? Philemon was a Christian in one of the churches St. Paul founded. Onesimus, a slave of Philemon, ran away from his owner. He ran to St. Paul, who was in prison at the time, cared for Paul’s needs, and grew in his Christian faith. So with this letter, Paul is sending Onesimus back to Philemon. Paul doesn’t want to make a demand of Philemon, but tries to persuade him not to punish Onesimus for running away, but to receive him as a brother Christian. A very short letter, it is worth reading, to know St. Paul better, and to see faith and friendship in action. The idea of persuading, not demanding, is also a lesson from the great apostle! If you haven’t picked up a Bible lately, open to Philemon!

Invitations to the Banquet

Without the eleven verses that precede today’s Gospel, Jesus words about family relationships can be very troubling indeed. As so often is the case, context makes all the difference in the world! Jesus is on the way to Jerusalem, and to his passion. He is teaching that putting God first is essential, and that many things, even good ones, can push God right out of the picture if we don’t get our priorities straight. He tells a parable about a banquet (prefiguring the invitation to the Last Supper). Seems the invited guests all made excuses, wrapped up in issues around acquiring property, and their family commitments. He concludes the parable, and comes out with the most shocking words, where today’s Gospel picks up: “If anyone comes to me without hating his father and mother, wife and children, brothers and sisters, and even his very life, he cannot be my disciple.” First, this is not about emotions, it is about priorities. Second, it is meant to jar the hearer. But notice, ‘even his very life’. Realize, Jesus is teaching that if we allow our ego to remain the center of our life, determining everything we do, then we will never truly experience following Jesus, and letting Jesus be the Lord of our life. We will always have excuses and miss the banquet. With that in mind, read Luke 14:15-35 and see if it doesn’t resonate much better!

Looking Ahead:

Twenty-Fourth Sunday in Ordinary Time

1st Reading: Exodus 32:7-11, 13-14
*Mo*es *i*ntercedes for the people

2nd Reading: 1 Timothy 1:12-17
*St. Paul and patience

*Joy over one repentant sinner

There will be a second collection next weekend, September 10 & 11, to help people in flood-devastated areas of Louisiana and provide pastoral and rebuilding support to affected dioceses. More than 60,000 homes have been lost with nearly 20,000 people rescued from flood waters. If you choose to write a check, please make it out to St. Louis Church with FLOODING in the memo/notes field. All proceeds collected will be sent to Catholic Charities USA, which is actively working in the area to provide immediate and long-term relief. You can also donate directly online at https://catholiccharities.org. Please be generous and kindly keep all those affected by the flooding in your prayers.
Made Holy
Of course, the Liturgy of the Word is a holy part of the Mass: we are listening to God’s Word! Jesus is speaking to us in the Gospel! So too, the Liturgy of the Eucharist is a holy part of Mass - we are at the Last Supper with Jesus! We are led into communion with God and with one another! What about the bridge, though, taking up the collection. Is it just a practical necessity to make sure the bills get paid and there is money to pay the staff? No! Hearing God’s Word opens our heart. It can open our eyes to important needs. Responding to God’s Word, we offer some of our hard earned money in the collection, and in the Eucharistic prayer, proceed to take it even deeper, offering ourselves, with Jesus, to the Father. Putting an envelope in the collection serves as a prelude to placing ourselves (spiritually, of course) on the altar. So the collection ... it is holy, and helps make us holy.

Building Community
As you know, we often prepare for celebrating the Mass together here at St. Louis by welcoming visitors, introducing ourselves, and greeting those around us. Sometimes in the Prayer of the Faithful we are invited to pray for a person standing near us. Let’s add one more. Think about asking someone near you before Mass, “When I pray for you, is there any particular thing you would like me to pray for?” Consider too letting someone nearby know what concern is in your heart, so that they can add their prayer to yours. Now that’s community!

Next Week’s Tithing Will Support St. Damien Pediatric Hospital - Haiti
(Located outside Port-Au-Prince, Haiti)

Last weekend, we were blessed with the presence of Fr. Rick Frechette, Passionist priest and physician. Listening to Father speak of his struggles as he lives as a poster person of the Consistent Life Ethic, you could feel his compassion and skillful dedication to do joyfully what he can for people from “conception to grave”.

In the 27 years we have known and supported him prayerfully and financially via Tithing and Annual Corn and Ornament sales, Fr. Rick has directed the metamorphosis of St. Damien Pediatric Hospital from a small hospice for dying babies arriving in the arms of Mother Theresa’s nuns into a state of the art medical facility. Statistics tell some of the story.

In 2015 alone:
- 67 new cancer cases were treated and 1,050 more cancer victims received oncology consults
- of the 13,300 cardiac consults, 21 children received cardiac surgery
- 2,026 babies were delivered after 4,841 maternity visits followed by 3,026 neonatal consults
- 3,000 children were treated for dehydration with an average of 50 children diagnosed with cholera monthly
- 267 new cases of TB were treated after 1,700 TB consults

Please continue prayers for Fr. Rick’s well-being in the seemingly futile environment of 4th World poverty and government unrest. With Fr. Rick, we thank you for your help. Further info, please visit: www.nph.usa.org/stdamien

Simple Prayers for Busy Families

If you could add the Gifts and Fruits of the Holy Spirit to your grocery list, which ones would you include? Do you need a little patience, love, or wisdom? Just like the food on our grocery list, we need the Gifts and Fruits of the Holy Spirit as nourishment to be healthy, to thrive, and to grow stronger. Give your family an opportunity to take exactly what they need each day.

Put a sticky note with one of the Gifts or Fruits of the Holy Spirit, such as love, peace, joy, goodness, patience, gentleness, self-control, kindness, wisdom, understanding, courage, or knowledge, where your family can read it. Repeat with other gifts or fruits as a reminder to be like Christ throughout their day. In the car or at the dinner table spend time reflecting on the gift. Why did I chose that particular gift or fruit for you to ponder? How will this gift make me a better person? How will I share this gift or fruit with my family and friends?

WHERE DO THEY COME FROM?

How does our parish attract people to becoming Catholic? The short answer is you! Any parish with many inquirers year after year has parish members with open hearts, who welcome others, giving the Holy Spirit the opportunity to work! Members of a welcoming and evangelizing community want to share the Divine message of salvation. They do it among family members, in the workplace, in gatherings with friends and neighbors, and in daily contacts. May God strengthen each of us who seek to do his will in offering a gentle, humble, and clear welcome to the Catholic faith. “Go out into the whole world and proclaim the Gospel to every creature.” (Mark 16:15)

The Rite of Christian Initiation of Adults (RCIA) is the way we lead individuals to become Catholic and receive the sacraments of initiation — Baptism, Confirmation, and the Eucharist. This initiation process also helps the whole community renew its faith as we prepare and welcome new members into the Church. The Rite speaks of conversion as a “spiritual journey.” Centered on fostering a deep relationship with Jesus and the Church he founded, this journey takes place through distinct stages over a period of time suitable to bring about a thorough catechesis, significant experience of the parish community, and commitment to the liturgical and moral life of the Catholic faithful.

The RCIA process is a restoration of the ancient catechumenate, which developed within the first three centuries following the era of the apostles, and helped the early Church Christianize the pagan Roman Empire. The Second Vatican Council called for the restoration of this venerable and powerful method of initiation for the worldwide Church.

If you or someone you know may be interested in becoming Catholic, we will begin gathering together with others from the parish in October. If you would like more information about these gatherings and the RCIA process at St. Louis, please contact Father Bob, Father Peter or Cris Wensel by calling the Ministry Center at 586-5675.

“The New Wars of Religion”
Topic for September 15 Courier Lecture

Frequent Catholic Courier columnist John Garvey, president of Catholic University of America and a nationally recognized expert in constitutional law, religious liberty and the First Amendment, will be the speaker for this year’s Catholic Courier Lecture.

The talk, which is free and open to the public, will take place at 6:30 p.m. Thursday, September 15, at Sacred Heart Cathedral.

Appointed by Pope Francis in late June as the first American on the board of a Vatican agency overseeing institutes of higher learning, Garvey previously was dean of Boston College Law School; taught law at the universities of Notre Dame, Michigan and Kentucky; and served as assistant to the solicitor general of the United States.

Under his leadership, Catholic University of America became a co-plaintiff in the recent Supreme Court case Zubick v. Burwell, more commonly known as the Little Sisters of the Poor case, challenging employer regulations under the Affordable Care Act for coverage of contraception and sterilization.

"The Little Sisters of the Poor, the university I represent, and countless other religious institutions across the country ask that the Supreme Court recognize our religious beliefs and strike down those regulations that would force us to violate them," Garvey wrote in an opinion piece in the March 20 Wall Street Journal. On May 16, the Supreme Court unanimously returned the case to the lower courts.

Garvey’s talk will address increasing attacks on religious liberty, the difference between defending a principle and the person of Jesus Christ, and tactics that may be helpful moving forward in the contemporary climate.

Details are available at CatholicCourier.com/news/local-news/cua-president-to-speak-here-on-religious-liberty/. For more information, please email Info@CatholicCourier.com or call 585-529-9530 or 800-600-3628 outside of the Rochester calling area.

The Mystery of God
Who God Is and Why He Matters

Atheism is on the rise. Skeptical thinkers like Richard Dawkins, Christopher Hitchens, and Sam Harris vigorously attack belief in God as irrational or, even worse, dangerous. The so-called New Atheism has attracted millions of young people thanks to bestselling books such as The God Delusion and God Is Not Great. How should Christians respond? How can we turn the tide of secularism and draw people back to God?

In The Mystery of God: Who God Is and Why He Matters, Bishop Robert Barron reaches into our rich intellectual tradition to teach us how to respond. Using the insights of St. Augustine, St. Thomas Aquinas, and Pope Benedict XVI, he uncovers a clear yet sophisticated understanding of what we mean by “God.”
